Cultural Competency: Understanding the Cultural and Religious Diversity of Our Friends and Neighbors

Saturday, September 17, 2011

9:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

Western Campus

9555 Haggerty Rd. • Belleville, Michigan 48111

The events of September 11, 2001 rocked the nation and affected the world. The events of that fateful day caused all Americans to pause and look at how we relate as a community in the midst of different religious beliefs, cultures and ethnic backgrounds. September 11th resulted in much more than a heightened level of security, it resulted in a higher level of appreciation, acceptance and awareness of the various communities and cultures that make up America.

The Religions in America series was developed five years ago to celebrate this and to encourage dialogue, education and awareness of the many benefits that we as Americans experience as a result of being such a diverse community. For 2011 the focus on "Cultural Competency" will explore our many cultural differences in the metro-Detroit area. Speakers will share information, facilitate discussion and guide participants in an exchange of information to learn more about how we all benefit from the various customs and traditions of our friends, neighbors and family members.

Open to the public at no cost.
