The following textbook is the required textbook for the BL 201 (Business Law) class:

LAW FOR BUSINESS has provided students with a comprehensive, yet concise treatment of the legal issues of fundamental importance to business students and the business profession. The cases, which have always been a strong feature, are edited and re-written by the authors, who divide the material into three categories: facts, issues, decisions. The authors, Barnes, Dworkin, and Richards, choose cases that are appropriate to explain precedent and history as well as include “hot topic” cases that relate to current events. In addition to case applications, the authors use such techniques as content summaries to apply concepts to practice. Effective managers and employees must develop knowledge of both law and business, because people involved in business also are involved in, and greatly affected by, the laws concerning business.

The textbook we are using is a customized version of LAW FOR BUSINESS, Eleventh Edition, by A. James Barnes, Terry Morehead Dworkin, and Eric L. Richards and the study guide is a customized supplement created to accompany our customized textbook. These books only include those chapters that are actually being covered in the course as set forth in the syllabus for the class. The customized version of the book was created in order to reduce the cost of the book to our students. Both books can be purchased in the Wayne County Community College District bookstores which are located on each of our campuses.

Both the textbook and the study guide are a required part of the class. With regard to the study guide materials, each instructor can determine how he/she wishes to use them in his/her course, i.e., as a part of class work, as homework assignments, etc., but the study guide materials should be adopted as an integral part of the class. The study guide materials are well prepared and should assist the student in evaluating his/her understanding of the material read and in familiarizing him/her with the kinds of questions that are normally included on examinations. We ask that instructors not make the answers to the study guide materials generally accessible to students, because some of our instructors use the study guide materials as graded assignments required for the class.
