PROGRAM LINEUP

The 5th Element of Hip Hop Culture

Dr. Khalid el-Hakim

Founder of The Black History 101 Mobile Museum, an award-winning collection of over 10,000 original artifacts of Black memorabilia dating from the trans-Atlantic slave trade era to hip-hop culture. Dr. el-Hakim has been called the “Schomburg of the Hip-Hop generation” because of his passionate commitment to carry on the rich tradition of the Black Museum Movement.

Participants will make connections to historical, social and political movements through the framework of Hip Hop culture.

Monday, February 7, 2022 1:00 p.m.

The Black Detroit of the Past

Sharon Sexton

The presentation will feature a short play entitled, “Lessons from the Underground Railroad: Featuring William Lambert, George DeBaptiste, Sojourner Truth and Mary E. Bibb”. Although the meeting is fictional, the play places the four historic icons together in the 1860s as they create a message of success for future generations. The characters from Michigan’s 19th century Underground Railroad, exchange stories from their own experiences as being freedom fighters to emphasize the value of each person even during the enslavement period of American history. We will also explore black residents who lived in Detroit from the time Michigan became a state until the Civil War.

Archeology of the African World

Nubia Wardford Polk

Nubia Wardford Polk holds an M.A. in Historic Archeology, with a specialty in Archeology of the African World, Historic and Pre-Historic Worlds. Her involvement and primary research in archaeology, anthropology and historical research has resulted in conclusions regarding the importance of the Ancient Kushite/Meroitic (ancient Sudan) civilization which predates Egypt.

The Kingdom of Kush was an ancient kingdom in Africa, centered along the Nile Valley in what is now northern Sudan and southern Egypt. This region was an early cradle of civilization, producing complex societies.
